

The next cell is empty and should be shown with an aqua color.

The image shows two adjacent rectangular cells. The left cell is filled with a solid red color and contains the text "The next cell is empty and should be shown with an aqua color." The right cell is filled with a solid aqua (light blue) color and is currently empty.