This text is inside an element. The border, padding, and margins for this paragraph should line up with the boundaries denoted; the edges of the light blue background should line up with the boundary between "padding" and "border" which would be as indicated. There should be no top or bottom margin; anything above or below should be flush with this paragraph.