

Chinese W3C participation survey analysis

Huawei

Question 1: Most interested Work Group of Chinese Companies

- * The most interested work group is HTML/CSS and WebRTC

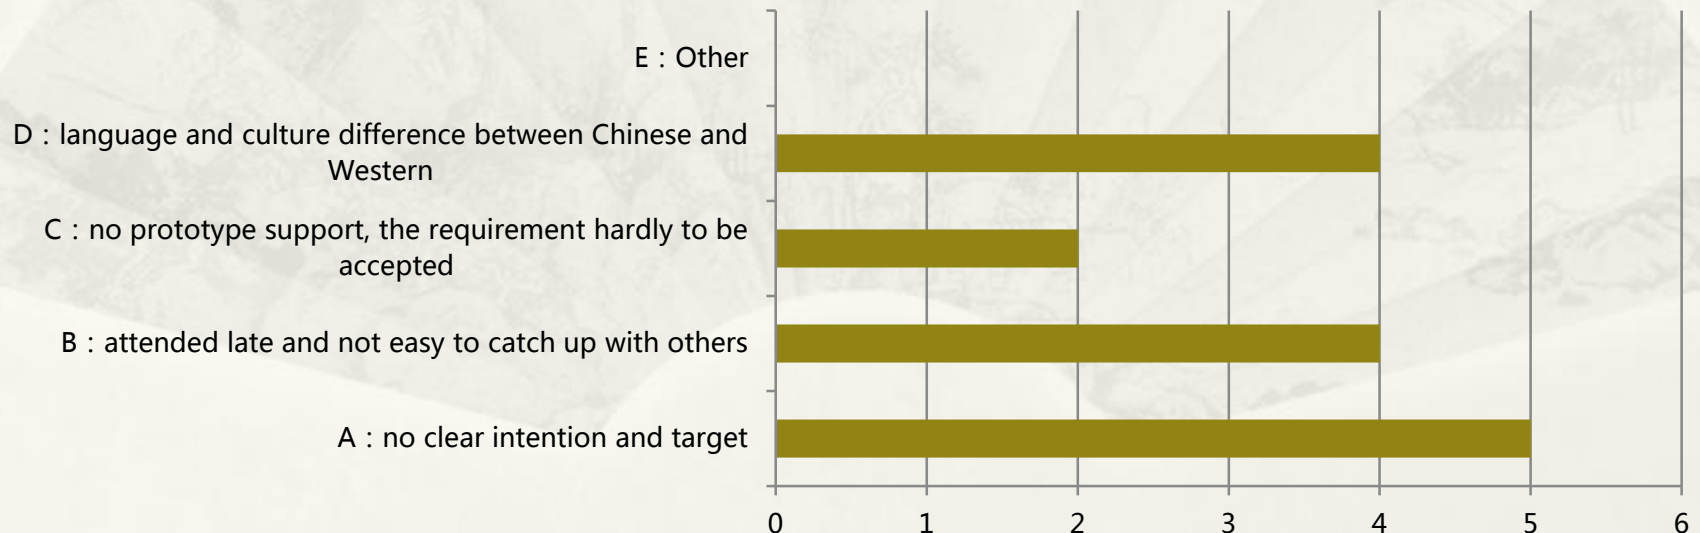

Q4: what do you think about the current status of Chinese companies attending the W3C

- * Most of the companies think that Chinese companies just follow or participate active.

Question 5: Deficiency when Chinese companies attend W3C activities

- * Companies do not have clear target
- * Language is a big problem

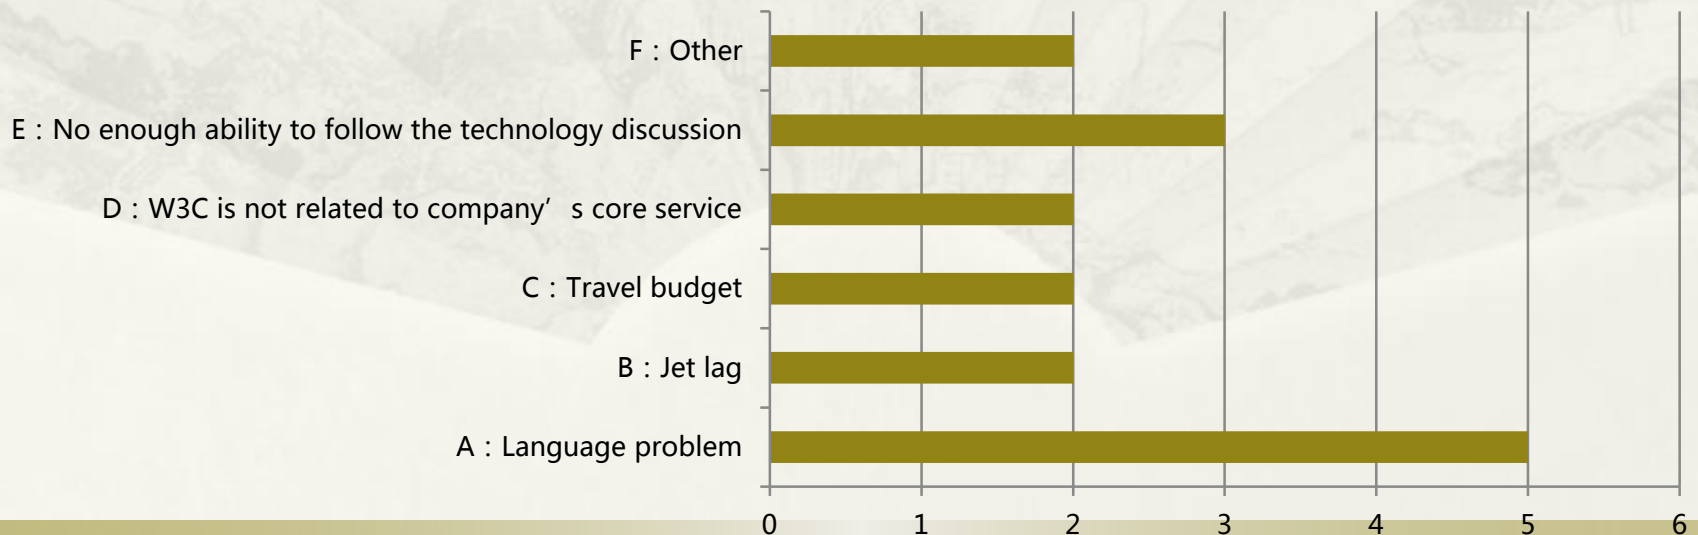

Q7: How to inspire Chinese companies to attend W3C activity?

- * 70% people think more meeting and activities hosted in China

Question 8: What block Chinese companies to attend W3C activity

- * The big problem is language and do not have too much web technologies to attend standard.
- * Other problem includes member fee and F2F meeting is too short.

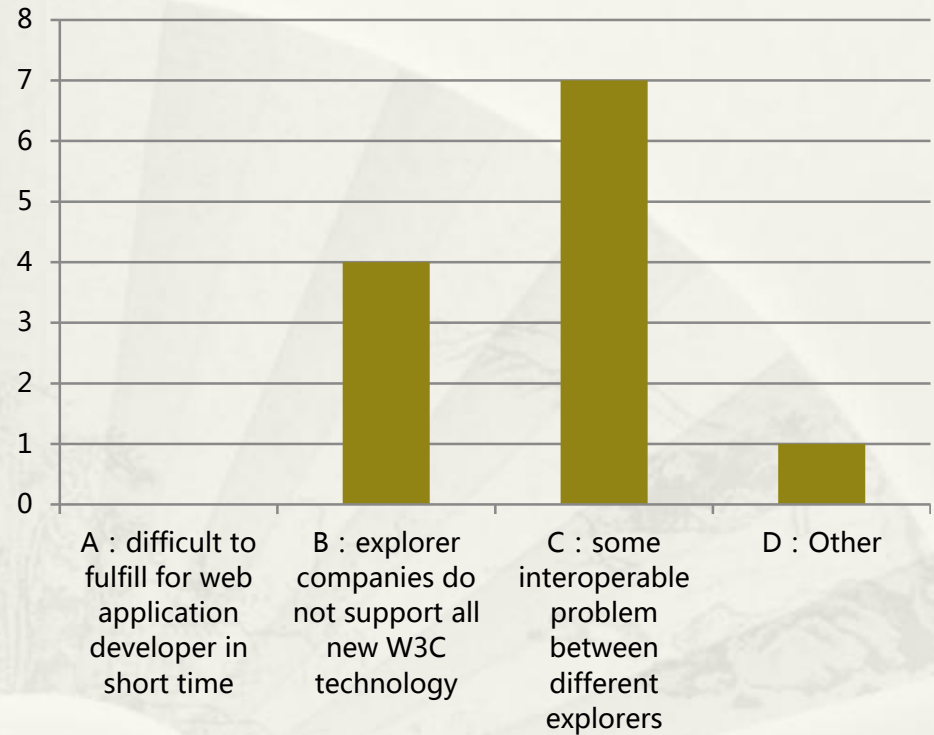

Q9 & Q10

- * 75% companies think they already or will support W3C technologies
- * 100% companies think W3C technologies will be used commercially and widely in 2 or 5 years

Question 11: Which problems do you think block the usage of W3C technology widely?

- * The two main problem we think
 - * browsers support new w3c tech is not so good
 - * Interoperability is not good enough between different explorers.

Q12: Do you think any impact for your current work and life because of current W3C work ?

- * We do not get some useful answers

Q13: Do you have some good idea for Chinese Company how to attending W3C activity?

- * More work in the standard
- * W3C should more open to more people
- * Host some activities, for example web programming competition.

Q14: Which is the most promising work item do you think in the near future?

- * HTML5
 - * WEBOS
 - * MOBILE APP
 - * WEBRTC
-

Other Suggestions

- * More test activities and authentication

Appendix - Survey

Survey

Survey in Chinese